4. Inactive Accounts

After research study closeout or completion of an educational activity, residual funds may remain. Some accounts may have funds remaining from gifts or other unrestricted grants not associated with a specific project.

If there is no activity on any given account for the period of a year, the investigator will be contacted to determine an appropriate plan for expenditure.

If there is no plan for expenditure, the funds will be transferred and used for general research support as determined by the Board of Directors.
